

The Bismarck Tribune.

BY M. H. JEWELL.

OF THE recent legislative convention the Jamestown Alert says: "The legislative convention at Bismarck has met, performed its functions by the nomination of a ticket for members of the legislature and submitted its action to the voters of the district. It is not to be expected that the selection of candidates will please all. Where there are not offices enough to go round some aspirants and their friends must necessarily be disappointed, and to be disappointed in such cases is to be endowed with a very acute sense of injustice and a keen faculty of peering into the dark recesses of hidden secrets and discovering corruption on the part of those who succeeded. We are not prepared to say that the nominations are the best that could have been made, but we lay it down as a self-evident proposition that they are the best that were made."

Barnes county will no doubt do some violent kicking over the success of Mr. Richardson, but they will have in him a good man to represent them in the territorial council, all the same, and we would suggest that our neighbors on the east adopt and emulate the example of Stutsman county in ceasing hostilities after the decisive battle has been fought. Hon. Johnson Nickens is entitled to and will receive the loyal support of the republican party in this county, as will every other candidate nominated at the recent convention, and Barnes should give Richardson a like support. Foster county by her own internal dissensions, forfeited the prize that was given to Griggs county, and if there is any cause of complaint she must look for it at her own doors. While her citizens may war with each other over the election of county officers and the county seat contest, their interests will be best served by giving the republican legislative ticket a hearty support, as the ticket will be elected from top to bottom.

The spirit manifested by the Missouri slope division of the district was one of generous fairness, conceding as they did the weight of the ticket to the weight of population, when, in consequence of the contests from the eastern division they could have taken advantage of the situation and by combinations with the contestants have reversed this order of things. All the representation in the council and half that in the assembly was given to the eastern division, and we certainly have no cause for complaint on this score, having received more than we asked for or expected.

"PALNED," in the Chicago Inter Ocean, writes from Elkton, Dakota, that the track of the Dakota extension of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern railroad is being laid at the rate of nearly two and a half miles a day, and it is expected that it will reach Clear Lake before the 1st of November and Watertown by the middle of that month. The building of the new road is the most important work going forward in Dakota this year, and is exciting widespread attention throughout the territory and abroad. While it is known that the stock of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern is held in about equal amounts by the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific and Chicago, Burlington and Quincy companies, it is a commonly accepted fact that the present move on the map of the Dakota Northwest, in connection with the extension of the Wisconsin, Minnesota and Pacific (the property of the Rock Island) west from Minneapolis to Watertown, is peculiarly a Rock Island movement, of an aggressive character, upon the wheat fields of Dakota. The directing interest in the Dakota line is so plainly in harmony with the management of the Rock Island that the new road is known generally as the Rock Island-Route to Dakota. Another year the new road will be pushed on toward Bismarck and the upper territory of the Northern Pacific railroad will be invaded by the redoubtable Rock Island.

The statutes of Dakota, says the Fargo Republican, confer upon justices of the peace wide jurisdiction in both civil and criminal cases. It is within the power of justices of the peace to place all summons, attachments, etc., in the hands of constables for service. The act to create the office of district attorney provides that each district attorney shall, when requested by any magistrate of his county, appear on behalf of the territory before any such magistrate and prosecute all complaints made in behalf of the territory, except for common assault and battery, of which such magistrate shall have jurisdiction.

In the first legislative district A. C. Huetson, of Lincoln county, and Wm. Duncan, of Union, were nominated for the council, and Ole P. Helvig, of Lincoln, John Larson, of Union, and Eli Dawson and Hans Myrnes, of Clay, for the house. The Canton Advocate speaks thusly of the convention: "The legislative selection was a big surprise to everybody. It was generally supposed that the nomination would be allotted to either Kennedy, Aikens or Treat, but the dark horse got away with the preliminary contest in the coming district fight, as he should at the polls in November. The ty of Mr. Huetson is unquestioned, and his many friends should see that the final majority be overwhelming. In the selection of a house member the friends of Ole Helvig feel gratified. The Scandinavian element will be well represented, and as with the council the ratification at the polls is simply a question of majority. There is some dissatisfaction over certain parts of the ticket, but the nominations have been made and the parties are entitled to the support of the republican voters. We certainly shall be pleased to see a thorough canvass that the republican majority may be large."

A GREAT many democrats are now crying, "We didn't expect to carry Ohio, anyhow; just wait until next month when we will carry New York and New Jersey, and elect our man." How are they going to do it? There are 401 electoral votes and it requires 201 to elect. The states which the republicans have good reason to expect to carry and the number of electoral votes they cast are as follows:

California.....	8	Nevada.....	3
Colorado.....	3	New Hampshire.....	4
Connecticut.....	8	New York.....	36
Illinois.....	22	Ohio.....	23
Indiana.....	15	Oregon.....	3
Iowa.....	13	Pennsylvania.....	30
Kansas.....	8	Rhode Island.....	4
Maine.....	8	Vermont.....	4
Massachusetts.....	14	Wisconsin.....	11
Michigan.....	13	New Jersey.....	9
Minnesota.....	7
Nebraska.....	5	Total.....	248

This showing gives Blaine 47 more electoral votes than are necessary to his election. Suppose, then, that the democrats carry New York (36 votes) and New Jersey (9 votes), as they talk of; in that case, 45 votes must be subtracted from the above estimate, which will still leave 203 votes—a majority for Blaine and two to spare.

Besides the republicans have as good a chance for carrying West Virginia, Virginia, Tennessee, North Carolina or Louisiana as the democrats have for carrying New York or New Jersey. In the elections next month Ohio will likely go for Blaine by 30,000 and New York by 40,000.

THE Chicago Times sees the handwriting and says: "It would be idle for the supporters of Mr. Cleveland's candidacy to deny that the result in Ohio has greatly augmented the probabilities of the election of Mr. Blaine. Though it may not be a 'proclamation of the result of the presidential election,' as some gushing organs of both Cleveland and Blaine made haste to declare, in advance, that it would be, it is nevertheless a very portentous augury of the direction of the popular mind. It gives to the candidate of political immorality the prestige of the military commander who has defeated the enemy in the first engagement. It inspires his army with the enthusiasm of victory; fills even the timid and apprehensive with the moral energy that often compensates inferiority of numbers, brings to the front the cowards that had fallen to the rear; converts doubt into confidence, and irresolution into positive force. To ignore the increase of moral strength that in these ways the Ohio result lends to the Blaine army would be, for the Cleveland commanders, to surmount the summit of folly."

THE Mitchell Capital says: "Looking over the list of legislative nominations made in the past few weeks, the spirit of the next legislature may be forecast. Some of the more conspicuous and objectionable characters of the capital ring have been dropped, but it is evident that the people have determined that the capitol question shall be quieted for the present, at least. We need not expect to see any effort to disturb the location at Bismarck, at all events, till the question is settled by the courts, and we would not be surprised to see an act passed legalizing the act of the commission. It would be folly, however, to expect that any attempt to saddle the expense of the new building on the people would meet with favor from the next legislature. We are on the eve of important events in Dakota, and we were pleased to see that strong, safe men have been put in nomination by the people."

JUDGE COLLINS, who announced himself as a candidate for district attorney, has withdrawn. Many of his warmest friends are identified with the people's movement, and he does not wish to embarrass them.

THE Chicago News publishes the following as a sample of the editorials that were written the night before the election in Ohio by numerous newspapers "in the fence." The blank spaces were filled in later in the evening:

At the time of the present writing enough has been learned from Ohio to satisfy us that the ticket has been elected by a majority ranging somewhere between ——— and ———. MANY tenement-house cigar makers receive from their employers 100 pounds of tobacco, for which they have to return 102 pounds of cigars. The difference is supposed to represent the water used in moistening the dry leaf. Complaints are made that when the tobacco is short, cigar stumps, willow, oak and leaves are used to make good the deficiency, and that in some instances 10 pounds of tobacco have thus been made to produce to 200 pounds of cigars.

The adjoining field, not manured, produced twenty-one bushels per acre.—Codington County Courier.

PIERRE JOURNAL: The second term for the year of the territorial supreme court has been held in Yankton this month in pursuance of the statute, and the question of holding a term at the capital, Bismarck, in pursuance of the organic act considered. FARGO REPUBLICAN: The demand for Dakota flour in eastern markets is steadily increasing, and from present indications it looks as if the shipment of the manufactured product will soon become a more lucrative enterprise than the sale of the raw material. The Fargo Roller mills are gradually working up a good trade in the city of New York, and have already shipped to that point this season a large quantity of their best brands of flour. Their latest shipments have been made within the last two days, 750 sacks having been shipped yesterday and 250 sacks to-day, making 1,000 sacks within two days.

PIONEER PRESS: The Methodist conference at Mitchell, Dakota, unanimously adopted a resolution declaring that they will "never consent to the adoption of a constitution for the future state of Dakota which does not contain constitutional prohibition." This may possibly settle the matter, but we doubt it. There is a constant and steady increase of sentiment among the enlightened portion of the people against the unwisdom of sumptuary laws. Personal rights and individual liberty are not yet dead letters, and despite the efforts of well meaning but misguided zealots to make them so.

CREAM and peaches once a week,
Kiss your girl on the right-hand cheek;
Apple's green and apples dried,
Kiss her on the other side.

That evinces wretched taste;
Take your girl about the waist,
I lift her to her pink toe-tips,
And print it squarely on her lips.

We find our way by far the best—
To set the scenes in a whirl
Just give your own dear girl a rest
And kiss some other fellow's girl.

But how to kiss her, that's the point—
To find the girl's an easy thing—
Just plant her on your old knee joint
And make the brooding welkin ring.

The sweetest kiss we ever got,
And one on which we long have fed,
Was when our girl came up behind
And smacked us on our old bald head.

WASHINGTON GAZETTE: Some weeks ago there was a serious and extensive revolt in the northwest states among the German voters against the republican party. That revolt was undoubtedly tacitly by partisan stories of the position of the republican party on the liquor question. It cannot be denied that it was widespread and serious. It threatened the stability of the party in at least one state, if not in more. It is happily at an end. Caused in the first place by a baseless misrepresentation, it ended as soon as the facts were disseminated and understood. More than this. A reaction set in and the party which expected to profit from the misrepresentations finds now that it is in danger of losing the few Germans who from self-interest or idiosyncrasy have been attached to the democracy. It is more than probable that the falling off in the German democratic vote of Wisconsin, for example, will be at least 33 per cent. If the election could be postponed a couple of weeks later the democratic loss in this quarter and from this source would amount to not less than half, if not a greater proportion.

A Neat Presentation.

At a meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church, held Thursday at the residence of Mrs. Thomas, the president, Mrs. D. C. Plannett, who is about to remove from Bismarck, was made the recipient of a silver cake basket, from the members of the society. The secretary, Mrs. S. M. Hodges, on behalf of the society, presented the basket with the following little address:

Mrs. President: It was with the deepest feeling of regret that the members of this society became aware that you were about to move to another field of labor. During the year that you have been in Bismarck this society has been organized and, under your able leadership, much work has been accomplished. The most complete harmony has characterized our proceedings. No personal rivalries with each other have interfered with the efforts of this society. The aim has been to unite all in a bond of union, and certainly "in union there is strength." According to the law of truisms, a faint heart and weary hand never accomplished a work of note, and are only credited for negation of will; for physical force and moral energy are essential elements of success. In parting with you we find much to recall that is most pleasing, and with sincere love we wish you God speed, trusting that in your new position and home you may find loving hearts and willing hands to cheer and lighten your labors. The members of this society felt that they wished you to have a souvenir of the pleasant hours we have spent together, therefore, in their behalf, I present you with this silver cake basket as a slight token of their appreciation of your good efforts.

It is needless to say that it was a complete surprise to Mrs. Plannett, who in a few heartfelt remarks assured the ladies of her appreciation of their love and their gift.

New Salem Notes.

Mr. Bamberg was in town yesterday and took back some lumber for his new store at Mercer. A democratic mass meeting will be held in the waiting room of the depot next Saturday. Those not clean on the other side better take to soap (not soft soap) and water.

A gentleman from Stanton went up the Knife River valley with a small library of law books and began to expound the law on the county seat question to the innocent tillers of the soil. No deaths from fright have been reported.

Rizard Bros. came to town and returned today with a load of lumber.

A terrible prairie fire has been raging for a number of days. C. M. Leoin lost his hay and oats, and had a hard fight with the flames to save his house.

Mr. Arthur Strickenberg came from Mandan on the noon train. He is always welcome. Sims has been looking around lately for a "little boom," and has found it on the county division question and making Sims a county seat, but alas, it is still in its infancy and requires a good deal of nursing.

New Salem, October 16.

Where Has He Gone?

Some surprise has been aroused by the sudden departure from the city of Prof. Jones, who, for some time past, has been conducting a select school near the corner of Thayer and Meigs streets. When Mr. R. W. Correll, who is agent for the building, went to the school room Saturday to attend to the matter of rent he found the doors unlocked and the room deserted. Upon the wall was a note written by Mr. Jones, stating that he had been called away by the sudden death of a relative. Inquiry failed to throw any light on the subject, no one knowing when and where he had gone. The scholars books were found in the desks, and can be had by calling on Mr. Correll. Prof. Jones may return, but as it is not known when he went or how long he will be gone Mr. Correll desires to prepare the building for tenants. It is believed by some that Jones became dependent as he was of a quiet reticent disposition and has not of late been very lavishly favored or smiled upon by dame fortune, and has gone from Bismarck to seek a new field of labor.

He Was A Fellow.

He may have been a fellow of infinite jest, or he may never have smiled a solitary smile or jested a single jest in all the days of his oblivated career in the Missouri slope. But the fact remains that he is no more on earth forever. Mr. C. H. Wilson came down from the Turtle Mountain region Saturday and reported that he had found the skeleton of a man lying on the river bank about fifty miles north of this city. The remains must have been exposed to the wind and weather for a long period of time as the flesh had entirely disappeared, and all that remained was the skull and bony framework. The peculiar and curiosity-arousing feature of the discovery was the presence of shreds of clothing and an old leather pocketbook, which leads to the conviction that the deceased must have met with death either by accident or foul play.

The Saskatchewan Problem.

Mr. D. L. Wellman, owner of the famous Wellman farm at Frazee City called on the Tribune last Friday in company with his old time friend and army companion, J. F. Wallace. Mr. Wellman is the owner, proprietor and proprietor of the original and genuine Saskatchewan fife whistle, which has proven such a grand success and been so great a boon to many a farmer and agriculturalist. Mr. Wellman will remain in the city and county several days, visiting the farmers and will endeavor to introduce his wheat into the country. As many of the husbandmen of the Missouri slope have suffered of late from poor seed wheat, it is believed that they will be glad of an opportunity to secure the famous Saskatchewan fife.

The Challenge Accepted.

The Banner hook and ladder company of this city announce that they will accept the challunge of the Mitchell company to a hub and hub race for $500, and are ready to run in this city at any time within the next thirty days. It is hoped that the Mitchell boys will see fit to come up to the capital city, as nothing would give the citizens of Bismarck more pleasure than an opportunity to entertain a deserving organization from one of South Dakota's representative and growing young cities.

Pleased With the City.

The following officials of the Northern Pacific road passed through the city Saturday in a special car attached to the noon train: J. F. Oakes, vice president; Jules Hannaford, general freight agent; Chas. S. Fee, general passenger agent; J. Odell, assistant general manager; Geo. W. Cushing, superintendent of machinery, and G. S. Barnes, president of the Northern Pacific elevator company. General Land Agent Lumborn returned last evening from Jamestown. Vice President Oakes was seen by a Tribune representative and stated that the party would go through to the coast, stopping at different points and inspecting all divisions on the way. He complimented Bismarck on its improvements and appearance of thrift and said that all along the line he found the country in a very promising condition and business on the road improving very encouragingly. The party remained at Little Missouri last night, where they were entertained by Marquis de Mores.

Excited Firemen.

The members of the fire department of Mitchell, Dakota, are evidently a little excited, or, to say the least, considerably enthused on the subject of "gittin' thar" in the manner of an Eli. They have challenged any of the hook and ladder companies that participated in the late Aberdeen tournament to a hub and hub race for $500. This, however, does not include the Bismarck company.

Quadrille Band.

A quadrille band is one of the amusement needs of Bismarck, and recognizing this fact, several of the city's musicians have decided to take immediate steps toward the permanent organization of a band, and will have regular rehearsals, providing themselves with all the modern dance music. This is a move forward in the musical line which will meet with the hearty approval of all who enjoy the pleasant exercise of the dance.

The Vacancy Filled.

The vacancy in the M. E. Church pulpit caused by the calling of R. V. D. C. Plannett to the presiding eldership of the Grand Forks district, has been filled by the appointment of Rev. P. Clare, who will arrive next week. The services in the church tomorrow and Sunday the 25th, will be conducted by Rev. D. C. Plannett. Rev. and Mrs. Plannett will leave for their new home in about ten days.

The Calendar.

There are over 150 cases on the district court calendar for the November term, and it is estimated that it will require at least a month to dispose of the same.

A whole nation of housekeepers have been using Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder for years and has proven it pure, effective and healthful. They know it to be the best baking powder for they have tried it well and it has never failed them. This is knowledge gained by experience in the kitchen in actual use.

The Primaries.

The caucuses at the court house and green-house Saturday for the purpose of electing delegates to the county convention to be held next Saturday, the 25th inst., were well attended and the proceedings were characterized by harmony. At the court house the meeting was called to order by John A. Stoyell, and on motion, M. J. Edgerly was elected chairman and M. H. Jewell secretary. The following delegates were chosen: R. B. Mellon, L. N. Griffin, John A. Stoyell, George T. Webster, M. H. Jewell, E. A. Lilly, A. Beal, J. H. Marshall, M. J. Edgerly, W. B. Bell, Frank Frisby, Harvey Harris. At the green-house the caucus was organized by the selection of W. B. Moorhouse as chairman and O. B. Little, secretary, and the following delegates were chosen: W. S. Moorhouse, J. P. Philbrick, J. J. Jackman, J. A. Haight, F. V. Barnes, E. J. Clausen. The caucus in the Third precinct was held at the Field's school house. The delegates chosen are E. A. Brunsmann and Louis Scheiman.

Library Association.

At a special meeting of the Bismarck Library association yesterday the following officers were elected, to hold until the annual election of officers in January: President—Mrs. O. S. Goff. Vice President—Mrs. W. M. Pye. Sec. Vice President—O. H. Clague. Treasurer—Mrs. C. B. Weaver. Secretary—Mrs. F. J. Carl.

Fruits in the Sanctum.

The Tribune sanctum table was adorned Friday evening by a large box of grapes and pears from Portland, Oregon. The delicious fruits were sent in with compliments by Pullman conductor Harry Carter, one of the best "boys" on the road, and just such a gentleman as it is a pleasure to meet at any time or in any place. He is a staunch friend to Bismarck, and this is only one of the many instances where he has remembered her citizens in a manner which is highly appreciated.

Return of the Excursionists.

Governor Pierce and party, who left here Friday noon on the steamer Benton for a trip to Fort Yates, returned Monday noon, having enjoyed a delightful excursion. The steamer on the way down landed at Fort Lincoln to add Mrs. Captain Reed to the party, whose enlivening influence upon all, but especially the gentlemen, found a recognition in a series of resolutions unanimously adopted and addressed to her, but which it was impossible to obtain for publication. The excursionists were met at Yates by the officers of the post, Major McLaughlin and Mr. Douglas, and escorted to the house of Mr. Douglas, while the governor's salute was fired from the fort. After refreshments the party proceeded to the residence of Colonel Gilbert, where an informal reception was held and the visitors presented to Colonel and Mrs. Gilbert and the other officers and their ladies. The Indian supplies were all carefully inspected and found entirely satisfactory. The next visited was an object of special interest. After singing and recitations by the children and a short address to them by the governor, the party was escorted through the school building to see its plan and appointments. In close proximity to the school, the eight, novel to most of the guests, of squaws preparing jerked buffalo from Uncle Sam's beef, attracted attention. The legendary Standing Rock and Indian tepees in the near distance, were among the most interesting landscape features seen. Major McLaughlin kindly arranged for a large Indian at the agency, to which the party were taken in carriages. Nearly 100 brave and 200 squaws participated; first the friendly Indians and then the hostiles. The novelty and charm of the scene had a remarkable effect upon the ladies of the party, who were discovered afterward on the forward deck of the boat reproducing the ball scenes of the prairie to the sound of smoke stack tom toms and the applause of their favored audience. After the war dance the party were taken in carriages to the different Indian camps, where the nation's ward's had gathered to receive their regular rations, Sitting Bull's residence and relatives receiving the larger share of attention. Most of the excursionists were entertained at the residences of their various hosts, and later in the evening at a delightful hop given in their honor by the officers. Nothing was left undone which the most generous hospitality could suggest, or which could add to the pleasure of the visit. A somewhat of excursionists gathered Sunday morning in the ladies' cabin to attend divine service, conducted by the Rev. Mr. Dwight, of Worcester, Mass. Among the many pleasing incidents of the excursion, none were of greater interest than Captain La Barge's stories of his experience in early days on the river, when every landing of the infrequent steamers was a signal for an Indian fight, and crossing bands of buffalo stopped the course of the boat in mid stream and steamer deck hands hoisted the clumsy brutes on deck from their struggling ranks.

WAR DANCE.

After dinner toasts, with our genial governor as toast master, singing by the ladies, quiet games of cards, glimpses of deer, swans, geese and ducks, just out of rifle shot, and an occasional intrusive snag running in between decks enlivened a journey at no time monotonous. The courtesy of the officers of the boat received due recognition at the hands of the governor and council protem, General Agent Baker being promoted to the rank of admiral of the Upper Missouri fleet, and Purser Leasure gracefully accepting the title and emoluments of commodore. Both nominations were unanimously confirmed by the council, and response made by the recipients in the usual and acceptable style.

No better evidence of the good feeling of the party and their hearty appreciation of the many courtesies extended them can be offered than the following minutes of a meeting in the cabin of the Benton when nearing Bismarck, the resolutions being signed by all the excursionists.

At a meeting of the excursionists in the ladies' cabin, Gov. Pierce (the great father of the Dakotas) was called to the chair, and T. D. Merwin, Gold Eyes, of Mandan was made secretary after a close and exciting contest with Iron Eyes of Fort Lincoln. J. A. Rea, J. W. Raymond and E. C. Cooke were named a committee to draft an

for the good time had. Rea, without retiring according to the custom of the committee of five, read the following which was unanimously adopted and boisterously applauded:

In recognition of the pleasant courtesies of this excursion we would have it recorded that to Admiral I. P. Baker ("admiral" by the grace of his excellency, Gov. Gilbert A. Pierce); to Captain J. E. Baker, the pioneer navigator of the upper Missouri; to the popular John Leasure, "commodore" by common consent; to the commandant, Col. Gilbert, officers and ladies of Fort Yates, including Harry Douglas, always first in entertainment, and to Major McLaughlin, the model Indian agent of the service, we return our best compliments and pledge a long remembrance of the interesting scenes and hospitalities enjoyed.

The names of the excursionists are as follows: Gov. and Mrs. Gilbert A. Pierce. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Raymond. Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Barnes. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rea. Mrs. O. S. Goff. Mrs. J. Mallanney. Miss Edith M. Leasure. Mrs. Capt. O. B. Bead of Fort Lincoln. Rev. and Mrs. Wm. E. Dwight of Worcester, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Hold of Buffalo, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Cooke of Mandan. Mr. Wm. H. Upton of Walla Walla, W. T. Mr. T. D. Merwin of Mandan.

Honoring the Dead.

On Sunday morning, the 19th inst., Matt P. Farmoe, of this city, died of typho-malarial fever, after an illness of two weeks. Mr. Farmoe had been a resident of Bismarck for about eighteen months, during which time he had been in the employ of Dahl Bros. He was 29 years of age, industrious, quiet, of good habits and beloved and respected by all of his acquaintances. He was a native of Norway, where his parents still live. His only relative in this country is a brother, who arrived from Fargo Sunday. The deceased was a member of the Garfield Light Guard band, and the Guard and band attended in a body, making the funeral the most imposing and impressive ever held in Bismarck, as it was the first military ceremonies of the kind that ever took place in the city. The sermon was preached in the M. E. church by Rev. D. C. Plannett, and from the church the remains were escorted to the cemetery by the militia and friends of the deceased, the band playing the "Requiem March" in a touching style. While the death was a sad one and is to be mourned, it was indeed a gratifying scene to see so much respect, so profound and imposing a ceremony in honor of a man from the lowly walks of life. No more imposing or truly respectful obsequies could have attended the death of a king and the funeral was a grand manifestation of the appreciation of true manhood, regardless of position, was a credit to the Garfield Light Guard, and a gratifying consolation to the grief-stricken brother and friends of the deceased. At the graveyard the band filed on either side of the grave, playing the requiem "Dust to Dust," while the corpse was lowered. After the ceremonies at the grave the band played the quickstep "Calumet." Mr. Farmoe held a policy in the Western Mutual Aid society of Des Moines, Ia., for $2,000.

Haynes on Top.

F. J. Haynes, the well known photographer of Fargo and the Northern Pacific artist, is rapidly gaining a national reputation and much to the gratification of his many friends in the north-west, he is frequently heard from in a manner which indicates his gradual ascendancy toward the top of the ladder. The last heard from, he has been appointed superintendent of the Wyoming art gallery of the World's Industrial and Cotton Centennial Exposition at New Orleans, and received his commission on the 13th inst. Mr. Haynes has won a great share of his reputation by his excellent work in the National Park his stereoscopic views of that famous beauty-land having been distributed throughout the world in large numbers, and now his appointment as superintendent of the Wyoming art gallery at New Orleans will give him a broader and more conspicuous field in which to work. A few years ago he came to the northwest with no capital, save energy and pluck, and now he is financially independent and steadily gaining wealth as well as fame.

At the Old Stand.

The Tribune observes in the Miles City papers that Capt. John W. Smith and James Coleman are again associated in business at the old stand in Miles City. An old time Bismarcker will remember Capt. John Smith, the jovial, big-hearted pioneer, and the Palace sample room he used to run in Miles City long before the railroad reached that point. Mr. Smith has been to the Coeur d'Alene mines, has been to the National Park and a score of other places, but has finally come back to his first love—Miles City—where, it is stated, he has opened up in that degree of elegance characteristic of Mr. Smith, and his amiable companion Mr. Coleman. The old stand, corner of Main and Park streets, in its palmy days turned thousands of the shining dollars into the pockets of Mr. Smith, and now that he is back again the Tribune and all other Dakota friends will lose no opportunity in influencing history to repeat itself.

opportunity to record their names upon the political census list of Dakota. With the figures of 1882 before us it is no extravagant claim that there is in Dakota a majority of at least 40,000 for Mr. Gifford and a vote for both candidates which will fall not short of 100,000. Since the election of 1882 there has been an unprecedented rush of immigration, and nearly all of Dakota's residents have been in the territory long enough to entitle them to the privileges of the ballot. Dakota's interests require that every vote be cast and counted this fall.

The following notes from New York, social, political and general, are from a well known Bismarcker now visiting the Empire state:

Among the sisterhood of states, New York was long ago and very rightly, christened the "Empire State"—and this with no trace of disrespect or disparagement to the other and no less worthy members of the great family of commonwealths. Great in extent, in wealth and population; great in its commerce and manufactures and resources; and great in the enterprise, intelligence, morality and patriotism of its people it has well won the title which has of one accord been given to it by its generous rivals. With an extent of territory larger than that of Prussia, and nearly equal to that of England; with a population equal to one-tenth that of the United States; with a belt of imperial cities extending like a golden chain from the metropolis of the continent on the east to Buffalo on the west; with a series of natural waterways from the ocean to the great inland seas; with a soil as rich as the sun ever shone upon, and hiding inexhaustible stores of mineral wealth beneath its fertile surface, it certainly ought to be facile princeps in the race for supremacy. And all this it has accomplished in the comparatively short period of less than three hundred years—the short span of a day in the history of a nation. In the light and experience of all this, what may we not expect in the development of Dakota, whose confines are limited by no such narrow boundaries; which has an area greater than that of New England, New York and Pennsylvania combined, with natural wealth and advantages unsurpassed, a soil and climate unequalled, and a thrifty, intelligent and enterprising people, who know no such sensation as rest, and no such word as fail? But I am not going to devote my letter to Dakota, nor make of it a boom article for Bismarck; that is unnecessary and would be like "carrying coals to Newcastle;" my mission is rather to preach the gospel to the unconverted, not to those who are already "strong in the faith"—those that we need not a physician, but those who are sick; and my humble ministrations shall be to those who are in need of them. My subject now is the great Empire State of the west—Dakota. Of all the sections of this state the fairest and most fertile by my mind is central and western New York. It has been aptly termed the garden of the state, for such it is—and not only the garden, but the orchard—and of this section Wayne county is not excelled by any of its sisters. The four counties of Wayne, Monroe, Orleans and Niagara, skirting the southern shores of Lake Ontario produce more fruit than any other similar number of counties in the state. Niagara county is perhaps the most productive, but the proportion is pretty well sustained by all. Apples are the staple, but other fruits are well represented, peaches, plums, pears and grapes also coming in for a good share of cultivation and yield. The price being paid for choice fruit may possibly give—in a political economy sense—some idea of the enormous yields. The best fall apples are now being sold for 85 cents and $1 per barrel (barrel included), while the choicest varieties of grapes can be had for 4 cents per pound. It is a very pretty sight which greets one on every side in a drive through the country at this time of year. Orchards dot every farm, the trees loaded down with the fruit with huge piles of it scattered on the ground, such as to make a Dakotan's mouth water. Grapes and small vineyards, too, are frequent, and the luscious fruit hangs in thick clusters from the vines almost broken by the unusual weight. The grape crop has never been larger than it is this season, and hardly pays for gathering. In the apple farm products this portion of New York is famous; and the present season has been a propitious one for the agriculturist. Wheat, oats, barley and corn have done well, and prices are correspondingly low, as with you, and as with you, this gives the New York grower an opportunity to grumble and find fault, which, as you may well surmise, he indulges to his full capacity for such agreeable avocation. As a consequence I find business of every kind very dull and people complaining of "hard times," fully as much if not more than in Dakota. There is a consequently great interest felt in the west and many inquired about Dakota. The west seems a land of golden promise to these small farmers who are struggling along in the almost hopeless endeavor to wrest from an impoverished soil a meagre existence, and lay by for old age or possible disaster, a small competence. Many of these owners or renters of small holdings are discouraged in their attempts to get ahead in the east and are looking toward the west (and principally the northwest and Dakota) as their only hope of redemption from a life of bitter poverty and a humiliating subservience to arrogant and exacting landlords, which is a social thralldom not to be borne by men of spirit or ambition. I look for a large immigration of this class to the west this fall, winter and spring. If Dakota and the Missouri slope do not get their full quota of the incoming multitudes, who will be to blame?

Politics are to begin to get lively, but thus far have been quiet. The principal fight has been in Ohio, and up to this time that has been the battlefield for the election which promises to go republican, though no figures are given on majorities. It should give a large majority for Blaine that would practically end the fight in the opinion of New Yorkers, and they would then push forward with confidence to an assured victory in that state. I think there would then be no doubt of the result. In this section of New York the republicans are united, harmonious and enthusiastic, and prompt to give a good account of themselves in November. I find no independent and very few prohibitionists, but many Butler men. The latter will be particularly strong in New York and the larger cities and towns, where the Irish and laboring element are large. The Irish defection is very great. I am confident, but it will not all go to Butler—the large portion drifting to Blaine. Butler will gain largely of the working men. The recent dismissal of Chief Clerk Healey from the bureau of labor statistics at Albany by Commissioner Peck, an appointee and political henchman of Governor Cleveland, because Healey dared to preside at a Butler campaign meeting not long since, was a big blunder for the democrats and will turn thousands of votes from Cleveland to Blaine and Butler. The leaders saw that a mistake had been made and so patched up a sort of peace between the malcontents which resulted in the replacement of Healey, but too late to counteract the bad effect of his dismissal. Butler and Grady have been jockeying through the state together, making fiery demagogical speeches to those who would listen to them and stirring up things generally. They have really made more noise than the democrats thus far. At Albany Grady was insulted and egged while speaking by employees of the new capital (he says) This will not help Cleveland any. Cleveland had quite a reception in Buffalo on his return to his old home (for the first time after his nomination) ten days ago. But by all odds the greatest ovation, and indeed the chief event of the campaign thus far in this state, has been Blaine's trip through it on his way to Ohio. It was a popular demonstration in every sense of the word, and probably never equalled before for numbers and enthusiasm. It was a spontaneous outpouring of the people to greet the great leader, the apostle of American protection and American ideas—the next president of the United States.

BURKE, of the Jamestown Capital, who will be remembered for the bold and fearless stand he took at the recent convention, and of whom the TRIBUNE has had occasion to say some hard things, with one swoop of his pen takes the fight all out of us; in fact he causes a blush of shame to come over our countenance, when he speaks as follows of the capital city: "For the first time in many months it was our pleasure to visit Bismarck this week. Knowing as we do of the enterprise and push of that city, we were not so much surprised at the long strides the place has taken toward permanency and in the direction of a substantial and important future. Many of the buildings put up in that city are models of architectural beauty and strength, and are a never-fading reminder of what pluck and true courage may accomplish in overcoming obstacles and the attainment of purpose. In her business blocks and in her residences, as in population, Bismarck has made a notable advance. The capitol building, which so proudly sits upon the crest of Capitol Hill, is a mammoth structure of fine architectural appearance. Rooms are now being finished for the use of the legislature the coming winter, and even the temporary arrangements will be very convenient and pleasant. The surprising feature of it all is that it was built by the people of Bismarck. We are not advised as to the methods adopted for raising the funds necessary to do the work already accomplished, but whatever methods prevailed, genius and pluck and faith have been shown in its accomplishment of an unusual degree. Bismarck may well be proud of it."

The Fargo Republican says: "Commissioner McKenzie and Major Fleming, who recently started for New Orleans, have returned, finding it unnecessary, from the courtesy of the Minnesota commissioner in looking after Dakota interests, to go to that city at present. Mr. Fleming exhibited to the editor of the Republican a rough diagram of the main exhibition building, from which it appears that Dakota has been fortunate in securing a favorable location—in fact, one of the best in the whole building. About twelve thousand feet of space has been allotted to the territory, every foot of which, the indications are, will be utilized. Mr. Fleming states that it is the purpose of these in charge to have the Dakota exhibit in place by the 15th of November, and he asks that those who propose to contribute to it will do so promptly."

The capital question seems to be settled so far as South Dakota is concerned. The Redfield Journal says: "Hon. R. F. Pettigrew, of Sioux Falls, ex-delegate to congress from Dakota, will very likely be elected to the territorial council this fall. He was unanimously nominated at the district convention. All this howl about his having formed a coalition with Ex-Governor Ordway is nonsensical bosh. We do not expect him to favor removing the capital from Bismarck. There are very few persons in South Dakota who do favor such a proposition. But we do expect him to kick like a bay steer against any move to saddle any portion of the capital debt upon the territory; and he'll do it, too, or else we are greatly mistaken in Frank Pettigrew."

AS MANY of the warm personal friends of Carl Peterson are interested in the people's ticket movement, that gentleman has concluded not to become a candidate for the office of judge of probate in any event, as has been rumored he would be, but will join his friends in the support of the ticket named elsewhere. The republican convention next Saturday will likely endorse the entire people's ticket. There seems to be a growing unanimity in favor of such action.

TUESDAY was a big day for Steele—town and person. There have been dimensions in the republican ranks in Kidder county, owing to local complications, but that this feeling will not enter into the legislative campaign was clearly demonstrated at the grand republican rally in Steele Tuesday, where many of

Mr. Steele's bitterest opponents must have been convinced of that gentleman's fitness for the legislature and his ability by the aid of the good and true friends from abroad, who were there assembled to accomplish more for Kidder county than any other person who could be chosen for the position.

The Jamestown Alert contains the following excellent editorial from the pen of Dr. Warnock:

The same old issue of a "solid south" is presented in this campaign. There is no canvass in most of the southern states, and the masses of the people down there scarcely know there is a campaign in progress. About all the attention the common people down there give a presidential election is to go to the polls every four years and vote for General Jackson or their fathers and grandfathers did before them. They are democratic now as they were during the war of the rebellion, though not quite so demonstrative as they were then. They are on record with an average illiteracy six times that of the republican states of the north. It has been demonstrated to be a political impossibility to carry a state for the republican ticket where the per cent. of illiteracy is above ten, with the unaccountable exception of Florida, whose electoral vote was carried for Garfield four years ago, but the democrats charged that they were cheated out of that state, and when we take into consideration the fact that Florida shows a record of 38 per cent. of illiteracy we are inclined to believe the democratic charge of being cheated out of the state is true. Reading and writing seem to be incompatible with southern democracy, and as the schoolhouse and school teacher invade the sunny south the democratic majority is diminished. Alabama with 43.5 per cent. of illiteracy, four years ago gave a republican majority of 78,059, while Georgia with her 42.8 per cent. of illiteracy, gave 49,874 democratic majority. Kansas with her 3.6 per cent. of illiteracy, gave a republican majority of 61,731, while Mississippi, with her 41.9 per cent. of illiteracy, gave a democratic majority of 47,896. These are statistical facts of record which point to an unavoidable conclusion.

DURING Mr. Davison's absence in Bismarck attending the convention, the columns of his paper at Valley City, the Record, were ravished by that political prostitute Root. It is due Mr. Davison to make this explanation. Although Mr. Davison was identified with the "lost cause" at Bismarck, he would not be so silly as to write such a tirade of abuse. Mr. Davison is not malicious. He had his ideas of right and worked in accordance therewith. That he was dissatisfied with the result of the convention was natural, but the TRIBUNE is certain Mr. Davison will regret the manner in which his last issue misrepresented him.

EVERYWHERE Judge Gifford is warmly received. From the home of Hon. J. B. Raymond to the Missouri slope that contributed so much to his nomination, he has found that same earnest welcome characteristic of Dakota, and particularly North Dakota. His triumphant tour is but half over yet. He goes from Bismarck to Jamestown, and from there to Grand Forks, where, in both places, he will find, if anything, increased enthusiasm, and this, too, from Raymond strongholds. This illustrates the loyalty of Dakota republicans. They stand by the nominees of their party convention.

ATTORNEY GENERAL HUGHES received from the department commander authority to reorganize James H. McPherson Post No. 6, G. A. R., at Bismarck, and in order that the work may be well done, he requests all old soldiers who desire to be identified with the new post under the old name and number, to hand or send by postal card their names to Captain W. S. Moorhouse, Bismarck, prior to October 31, when due notice will be given of the time and place of reorganization. After the new members are mustered the new officers will be elected and installed.

SANBORN ENTERPRISE: The Stutsman county delegation at the Bismarck convention earned the gratitude and esteem of the friends of Mr. Van Wormer by the manly and independent stand they took in the interest of justice and fair play, and we hope the people will show their appreciation by rolling up a handsome majority for Mr. Nickes, who jeopardized his own chance for nomination in order to assist the rightful representatives of the people of Barnes county in their futile attempt to gain a seat in the convention.

The value of a band and militia was again demonstrated Tuesday in doing honor to Judge Gifford. The TRIBUNE believes it voices the sentiment of this community when it says that these organizations should and will be encouraged. The thanks of the people of this region are hereby extended to the members of these organizations for the prominent part they have taken in the exercises of welcome to the republican nominee for delegate to congress from Dakota.

POLITICAL speech making is new to Judge Gifford, in the light of which his maiden efforts may be considered excellent. Judge Gifford is a worker among men. He is a polished conversationalist and possesses that force of character and determination requisite for success. The spirit of get-there-itiveness permeates his whole being, and he will do honor to Dakota in the national congress.

The report of the council proceedings in yesterday's TRIBUNE may have led some to believe that some members of the council were not in favor of grading the various north and south streets. The petition to grade Third street was not laid on the table as reported, but referred to the proper committee to await the passage of an ordinance which the city attorney is now framing. The mayor and council will do everything in their power to expedite the work, so as to have the streets in as good shape as possible before frost.

THE TRIBUNE was informed yesterday that the Copperstown Courier refuses to support Mr. Richardson, of Valley City, for the legislature. The TRIBUNE does not believe this rumor. Mr. Adams' delegation to the Bismarck convention were unanimous, with the exception of Mr. Adams, in favor of Mr. Richardson, and Mr. Adams ought to be more loyal to the republican party and his friends throughout the district than to bolt, simply because he and Richardson had a personal quarrel years ago.

JUDGE GIFFORD has created more genuine enthusiasm during his hurried trip in North Dakota than did Hon. J. B. Raymond in his whole canvass two years ago. This fact is mentioned simply to show that notwithstanding the fact of Judge Gifford being a South Dakota man, he will receive more than the full party vote in the home of Mr. Raymond, and also to show that there is no truth in the unloyalty of Mr. Raymond's friends to the republican cause.

J. A. JOHNSON, of Fargo, the independent-republican-endorsed-by-the-democrats nominee for the council from Cass county, is said to be a very clever and a very able man. He represents one of the largest farm implement establishments in the country, and it is said of him by the grangers that he has been so lenient with them that they feel it their duty to support him, notwithstanding the exceptionally good men he is running against.

The enterprise of the citizens of Bismarck is illustrated in the grading of the streets, the money for which is being raised by subscriptions from parties interested in the improvements. The capital grounds near the capitol building are to be terraced and the school-house block filled in to the extent of two feet at the building, which will give the grounds a slope to all four streets.

FROM the Valley City Times, one is led to believe that the love feast in Barnes county continues, that plenty of oil has been poured upon the disturbed waters and the political goose hangs high, so to speak. Mr. Van Wormer will support Mr. Richardson, and everything in the Times of late, seems to be in support of Van Wormer for almost anything he wants.

THE Grand Forks Plaindealer has the impression somehow, that Delegate Raymond is doing some work in the Grand Forks region against Hon. George H. Walsh, but some of Mr. Raymond's friends deny this. The TRIBUNE sincerely hopes that Mr. Raymond will be able to prove, by his actions, the statements of his friends to be true.

COLONEL TYNER, of Fargo, is made up of good ideas, but one of the best he has ever liberated was the one last evening in reference to the capital question, when he said that an inspection of the building was only necessary to settle the matter in the minds of the people to the entire satisfaction of Bismarck.

JUDGE GIFFORD expressed his regret at not being able to pay Bismarck and Mandan a more extended visit at this time. He states, however, that during the session of the legislature he will spend several days in this locality and will become more thoroughly acquainted with the citizens.

AT THE republican caucus in Jamestown Tuesday, delegates to the county convention were chosen who are in favor of selecting officers for the county regardless of party. The drawing of party lines in local politics seems to be as distasteful in Jamestown as it is to many in Bismarck.

IN SPEAKING of the chances of Twomey, from Cass county, for the council, the Argus says: "It looks now as though Mr. Twomey had the opportunity of his life if he would only explain his position on the tearing down of the capitol buildings."

THE Jamestown Capital takes a fiendish delight in copying all articles written by cranks regarding Bismarck, and all this because "swear me" Burke has failed to get the secretaryship in any of the recent conventions.

NEW YORK Morning Journal: Sitting Bull has an enormous head. He wears a 7½ hat, larger than Daniel Webster. He receives a salary during his present engagement of $200 a month. He shaves with a pair of tweezers.

WHEAT has reached the lowest price ever known on the Chicago board of trade—72½ cents.

A MASSACHUSETTS young lady has had her name changed to Notoriety, because so many men like to court notoriety.

MONTANA stock shipments on the Northern Pacific are the heaviest ever known on the road. The forwardings are now averaging from six to eight hundred head daily.

OSCAR WILDE has evolved a new style of hat, which he hopes will supersede the prevailing stovepipe shape. It bears a strong resemblance to a flowerpot set bottom upward.

EL MAHDI, the false prophet, sleeps during the day and transacts business at night. Just like the newspaper man, except that the newspaper man does not sleep during the day.

THE Texas Sittings says that the presidential tickets in the field now number six. Only one will be elected, but still after election the candidates who get left can be counted as sicks.

HENRY GRADY, sick with a slow fever in Atlanta, got from his doctor a prescription that read thus: Dose—Spring water, fresh milk, country air, cattle, clover, hay, goats, trees, buttermilk, shady lanes, hunting and fishing—to be taken away from towns and newspapers.

A CHICAGO drug clerk is quoted as saying: "Any number of ladies buy cigars here. I don't think they want them for brothers or fathers, because the gentlemen know how to buy their own cigars better than female relatives. I have sold cigars to quite fashionable ladies for years."

THE much-talked-of portrait of Mrs. Hayes in the White house has been put in a gilt frame like that of the picture of Martha Washington. The former frame, of walnut, elaborately carved by the ladies of the Cincinnati School of Design, has been relegated to the dusty depths of the lumber room.

CARDS are out announcing the marriage of Miss Josephine Hand, daughter of Hon. Geo. H. Hand, ex-secretary of Dakota, and Lieutenant Alexander Sharp, jr., of the United States navy. The ceremony will occur on Wednesday evening, October 29th, at Christ church, Yankton, Dakota. Lieutenant Sharp is a nephew of Gen. Grant.

PETER HENDERSON says that he has sold $600 worth of early cabbages from a single crop on one acre of land; that he followed it with a crop of lettuce which brought $140, and the lettuce with celery which sold for $600. And yet some people wonder why Mr. Hayes sticks to the farm instead of drifting back into politics.—Philadelphia Call.

THE organization of Rolette county has been perfected by commissioners Schutte, Welton and Maloney. C. C. Clement was chosen register of deeds and county clerk; James Elton for probate judge; F. E. Farrell for superintendent of schools. The Dunseith Herald made the official newspaper of the county.

BAD LANDS COW BOY: The burning coal mine in the east of Medora is already a dangerous rival to the famous burning mine southwest of here. In the night the flames light up the whole butte, and it is a sight well worth seeing. After a look at it one is forced to admit that the description of the Bad Lands "looking like a hell with the fire put out," is rather inadequate.

THE larger boy had a uniform cap on his head, and the smaller one carried an empty kerosene torch. As they were about to separate to "parade around the block" the larger one said: "Now, Put, you go down that way. If you meet a smaller boy than you are, hurrah for any candidate you want to; but, if he is the biggest, don't you do any hurrahing until you find out who he hurrahs for. Then you must yell for the same man or he'll lick ye."—Detroit Free Press.

ELLA WHEELER has been guilty of the authorship of another story, the first and last parts being as follows:

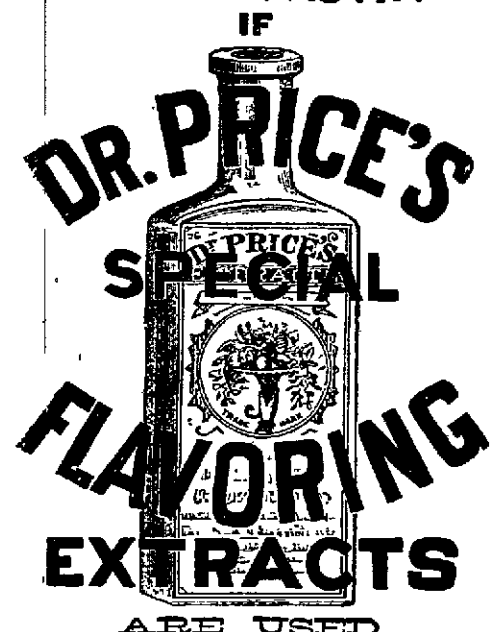

The situation was romantic. He was leaning over a rail fence wiping his warm brow with a somewhat soiled but very handsome handkerchief, when he discovered her.

She was kneeling in the grass a little way off, hunting for wild strawberries, which she dropped into a partially filled pail.

When he went abroad a few months later Lisle went with him—his wife.

A LATE Milesian arrival answered an advertisement for "A girl wanted." "Have you a good character?" asked the gentleman who advertised. "A good karriker is it? Shure an' I thought it was an independent ye are!" "And so I am. But what has that to do with hiring a servant?"

"It has everything to do with it," replied the Hibernian damsel. "Faith an' if you don't want a good karriker in yer president, who is the sarvint of the peepil, why should ye ask one of a poor girl, I don't know?"—Norristown Herald.

Railroad Notes.

The Pioneer Press of Friday contains the following interesting railroad notes. The snow storm to which it alludes will be remembered in Bismarck, and the contrast between that day and the weather which prevailed Wednesday last, has prevailed some time, and best of all, is likely to continue for a considerable length of time, is indeed wonderful.

The Northern Pacific has also commenced selling at reduced rates money excess baggage tickets to holders of commercial travelers' mile age tickets. There are two forms of these tickets, one for $30 and another for $15. Both are now sold at a reduction of one-third their face value, viz., $20 and $10. * The Missouri River & Northern, recently chartered, is to run from Valley City, Barnes county, through La Moure, Brown, McPherson, Edmunds, Faulk,
Potter and Sully counties to Pierre, in Hughes county. Connection is to be made with the Northern Pacific at Valley City. * The land department of the Northern Pacific yesterday received a magnificent display of fruit from Washington territory. In the collection there were fifteen varieties of apples and eight of pears. Several of the apples weighed upward of a pound and a half. * The Northern Pacific's new line from Portland to Kalama was opened for business on the 15th inst. In consequence of this the steamer of the Oregon railway and Navigation company running between these points have been discontinued. * Four years ago yesterday every railroad in the northwest was blockaded with snow. A heavy sleet storm also wrecked all the telegraph lines, with the single exception of a line between Chicago and St. Paul.

A Minneapolis Tragedy.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 17.—This morning about 6 o'clock, Frank Worth, a teamster who has rooms in the fourth story of the Merchants block, where he has been living with his wife and stepdaughter, got up and called the latter to get his breakfast as his wife was sick in bed with erysipelas. While the breakfast was being prepared he laid down on the bed beside his wife a few minutes and then got up and with out saying a word went into the next room; there he procured a club, and returning to his wife's bedside began beating her over the head with the club. The screams of the woman alarmed the little girl preparing breakfast and she ran out crying "murder." While she was after a policeman Worth desisted from his brutal work, thinking he had killed the woman, and going to the kitchen took a small butcher knife used for cutting bread, etc., and with it cut his throat and stabbed himself a number of times. When the officers returned they found him lying in a pool of his own blood in the doorway between the two rooms. He was not dead and was at once conveyed to the hospital in the patrol wagon that had been summoned. The attending doctors say there is no hope for his recovery. The wife was unconscious when found, and to all appearances dead, but since then has revived sufficiently to tell the story of the horrible tragedy. Her injuries are not fatal to herself, but, owing to the fact that she was ill with erysipelas, the prospects for a fatal result are considered inevitable. The wife says she can give no reason for her husband's awful deed.

A Steamship's Danger.

QUEENSTOWN, Oct. 17.—The Guion line steamer Nevada, Captain Bremer, from New York October 7, for Liverpool, arrived off here at 8:45 this morning. She reports fire aboard and great excitement prevailing among the passengers. Instead of proceeding to Liverpool, the Nevada has entered this harbor. The cargo has been on fire since Wednesday. A tender from the Nevada has been here and returned to the steamer with gangs of laborers to help subdue the fire. It brought no passengers ashore. It is supposed the fire was caused by spontaneous combustion among the cargo. 2 p. m. The Nevada's passengers are safe. Every effort is being made to extinguish the flames. 3 p. m. The Nevada on entering the harbor had heavy list to port; it is stated that there is ten feet of water in her hold. Admiral Lathbridge ordered the services of the crew of the English gunboat in harbor, but the agents of the steamship declined the proffered assistance. No passengers have yet been landed. 4 p. m.—The captain of the Nevada denies that the fire is still burning. The owners of the steamship expected her to leave Queenstown this afternoon for Liverpool.

At noon Wednesday the discovery was made that a portion of the cargo was on fire. The captain and other officers went below and found some cotton and hops burning. They returned to the deck nearly smothered. Water was at once poured upon the burning cargo, and the fire was got under control after some hours. Many passengers lent their aid and a quantity of the cargo was thrown overboard. From Wednesday the captain, officers, crew and passengers worked without ceasing; they were in a state of exasperation when they arrived at Queenstown, where fresh men were shipped to relieve the crew.

From West Virginia.

WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 17.—As far as heard from, twenty-eight counties of this state give democratic majorities aggregating 25,133. Twenty-two counties give republican majorities of 9,077. Democratic majority 2,566, with 6 counties to boot from, which may increase the general democratic majority 1,200. The democratic plurality in 1880 was 46,136 and 3,100 over republicans and greenbackers. This year the republicans and greenbackers fused; it appears, however, that the democratic greenbackers, in most counties, went back to their party and the republican greenbackers did the same. The campaign was virtually a square issue between the republicans and democrats. The total vote will surpass any in the history of the state.

The La Crosse Murder.

LA CROSSE, Wis., Oct. 17.—The inquest on the body of Mitchell, the lynched murderer, is now proceeding. The court house corridors are packed, and hundreds are standing outside the building. A venture was issued by Justice Safford and the following jury sworn: Ex Mayor Joseph Clarke, Moses Anderson, Alderman Jas. McCard, Col. Theodore Redolf, M. S. Shansone, and W. W. Garzell. The coroner's jury examined twelve witnesses. Among them were the sheriff, policeman and eye witness of the murder and lynching. The verdict is substantially that the deceased was the man who murdered Mr. Burton, and that he came to his death by hanging at the hands of parties to the jury unknown.

Blaine in Michigan.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 17.—The best arranged reception given to Mr. Blaine so far on his trip through Michigan was at Flint. Dispensing with carriages and the paraphernalia of a procession, the local committee had erected a stand on a flat car on which Mr. Blaine stepped from the train. Around the stand there was a very large and enthusiastic meeting of several thousand people. Mr. Blaine spoke here at greater length than usual. After calling attention to the protective tariff as the great issue of the campaign, and expressing his belief that Michigan, a state so much interested in protection, would follow the lead of Ohio, he said:

I have received, since I have been in this state, two or three letters from persons asking me to state whether I had ever been a member of the Knownothing party. In connection with these inquiries from persons in Michigan, I have received some telegrams from the Pacific coast, asking whether I was not a supporter of Mr. Fillmore when he ran in 1856 as the native American candidate for the presidency. Let me say, in full and explicit reply to these inquiries by letter and telegraph, that I never was a member of the Knownothing party, that I never voted for a man who was nominated by it, either for a state or for a national office, and that I was a supporter of Mr. Fillmore in 1856, when I was a young man of twenty-six. I had the honor to be a member of the national republican convention which nominated General Fremont (Cheer), and as the general is now on this platform, he will be able to bear testimony that, however ineffectual my support may have been, it was very earnest and very ardent (renewed cheering). I was the junior editor of the Kennebec Journal and the paper was entirely devoted to General Fremont's advocacy, and aided in giving him the largest majority ever cast in Maine for a presidential candidate of any party (cheers). The Knownothing order holds views in regard to immigration and naturalization with which I never had any sympathy and from which I never hesitated to express dissent.

The Campaign in Minnesota.

FARGO FALLS, Oct. 17.—The first grand rally in the fifth district campaign was held here tonight with Hon. Wm. Windom as the chief speaker. At least 1,500 people were on the streets to witness the torchlight procession in which there were 300 torches. The court house was filled to its utmost capacity and many were unable to gain admission. C. A. Gilman talked for awhile, but the audience in their impatience to hear Windom made such confusion that he was compelled to stop. As soon as Mr. Windom began the closest attention was given to him and everyone said it was the finest effort, politically, that they had ever heard. After a few remarks, he said that Mr. Blaine in a speech in New York in four sentences, had given the most complete statement of the creed of the republican party that he had ever heard in so few words. The policy was first, peace with all the nations of the earth; second, extension of commerce wherever possible; third, protection to American industry of every kind; fourth, protection to every American citizen whether native or foreign born. On these four lines of thought he made the body of his speech, dwelling at length upon the finances of the country and the tariff. He made a strong speech in favor of protection, and showed plainly its advantage. He accounts for the hard times by over production and consequent stagnation in trade. The flush times of two and three years ago set every kind of industry into action and the result has been to produce more than can be disposed of, and therefore stagnation and depression. His speech had a telling effect, and if there were any present in doubt as to which ticket to vote they made up their minds to vote for Blaine and Logan.

The Ohio Returns.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 17.—The official vote was counted by the county clerks today. The official returns from sixty and semi-official from the other twenty-eight counties give Robinson for secretary of state 11,521, and Flickinger for board of public works 13,476 majorities. The semi-official returns do not report on the other republican candidates, but with sixty counties the plurality of Johnson for supreme judge is estimated at between 15,000 and 16,000.

A Gallant Officer Dead.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—General Benjamin Alvord, United States army, retired, is dead. He became a brigadier general in 1876 and was retired at his own request after forty-six years service. He was breveted twice for gallant conduct during the Mexican war and was breveted brigadier general during the war of the rebellion.

Gen. Logan's Movements.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 17.—General Logan will leave this city Sunday night for Dubuque, where he will begin his western speaking campaign covering the states of Iowa, Illinois and Indiana. He will be accompanied throughout the tour by Col. Pat Donnan, of Dakota, and one or two other speakers.

The Life of Jesse James.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 17.—Mrs. Zerelda Samuels, the mother, and Mrs. Jesse James, the widow of the famous outlaw, were awarded damages today of $900 in a suit against the Chambers Publishing company, for violation of contract under which a royalty was to be paid them for the publication of the life of Jesse James.

Candidate Calkins Improving.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 17.—Hon. W. H. Calkins, the republican candidate for governor of Indiana, has been lying quite ill at Lafayette for several days, but has so far recovered that accompanied by his wife, he left this afternoon for Chicago. They will spend the night in that city and go to Laporte, their place of residence to-morrow.

Will Investigate.

TOLEDO, G., Oct. 17.—Hon. Frank Hurd says he has taken steps to ascertain whether any fraud was practiced in the late state election by which he was defeated. If he discovers fraud he will at once file notice of contest; if, however, he finds his defeat accomplished fairly, he would not accept a seat in congress if proffered him.

Miles City Republicans.

MILES CITY, M. T., Oct. 17.—[Special.] A largely attended republican meeting at the rink tonight was addressed by Hon. A. C. Bodkin and District Attorney Burleigh, who received close attention and frequent applause.

A Receiver Wanted.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 17.—This afternoon application was made in court for the appointment of a receiver for the Harrison Wire works. It is believed the company's liabilities exceed the assets by $400,000.

Electricity Instead of the Rope.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Oct. 17.—A bill was introduced in the legislature today by the opponents of capital punishment by hanging, providing for the execution of murderers by electricity.

A Noted Irishman Dead.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Alexander M. Sullivan, well known Irish leader and one of the founders of the home rule movement, died in Dublin this morning.

Wyoming's Nominee.

CHEYENNE, Oct. 17.—F. E. Warren, of this city, was nominated for delegate to congress by the Wyoming republican convention.

Louis Reil Killed.

TORONTO, Oct. 18.—The Mail's Winnipeg special says: A telegram from Calgary states that it is reported there that Louis Reil was shot in Prince Albert during a riot there, and that the government wires have been cut. Wild rumors are also current that Major Crozier and his command at Battleford have been massacred. The latter is apparently improbable, but the riot and Reil's death is looked upon as not unlikely by Prince Albert people now in Calgary.

Another dispatch says the rumors that Reil had been shot in Prince Albert during a riot there, and that the government wires were cut, have been in circulation some days. Information here came from a Roman Catholic missionary, but nothing confirmatory has been received.

Various wild rumors of the wholesale massacre of Major Crozier and his command, at Battleford, came by way of Fort McLeod, but no foundation for these rumors can be learned here. The shooting of Reil is looked upon by old timers and Prince Albert people here as not an unlikely event. Nothing further has been received from Calgary today.

Another Railroad Accident.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 18.—Appeal's Tupelo Miss. special: One of the most terrible wrecks that ever occurred on the Mobile and Ohio railroad happened a few miles north of this place last night. Every coach on the passenger train due here at 1:30 a. m. was thrown from the track and badly damaged. Rails had been taken up by unknown persons with a view to wrecking the train. There were about fifteen passengers on the train, all of whom were more or less injured, but none killed. The following five were seriously injured: Rev J. B. Inman, Henderson, Tenn.; Mrs. Warner, Farthing, New York; Paul Kraus, St. Louis; Leo Graf, Springfield, Ohio; and a negro. The attending physician thinks none are fatally injured and they are being well cared for at the hotel here.

A Defective Rail.

TERRE HAUTE, Oct. 18.—A Gazette special from Green Castle says: The Chicago express on the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago railway, consisting of baggage, express, two coaches and a sleeper, struck a defective rail about 2:40 this morning five miles south of this city. The engine train was ditched except the sleeper. Engineer, fireman and baggage men were seriously injured; no injury to passengers was bruised. The train immediately took fire and all the cars including the sleeper were consumed. The damage to engine and cars burned, and incidental losses will aggregate upwards of $30,000. The track was cleared and re-laid so trains could pass at 10:35 this morning.

The Work of Train Wreckers.

BOSTON, Oct. 18.—Further particulars of the accident on the Boston & Albany railroad near Kinderhook last night, show that it was caused by train wreckers, who placed rails and sleepers on the track. The locomotive turned completely over and the express cars jumped over it, and baggage and express cars piled on top of it. Engineer Davis was found under the wreck terribly mangled and died at 3 a. m. Fireman Sickney's recovery is doubtful. Conductor C. H. Gould and Baggage-master George Fairbanks were scalded badly. The Boston & Albany officials offer $1,000 reward for the discovery of the miscreants who wrecked the train.

Tenth District Democrats.

FARGO, Oct. 18.—The democratic legislative convention today endorsed J. A. Johnson, of Fargo, and J. C. Ryatt, of Wapeton, for the council. The legislative nominees were Dr. Bert Robertson, Fargo; Henry Oliver, of Ransom county; T. M. Pugh, of Dickey, and R. D. Button, of La Moore.

United States Marshal Shot.

CALDWELL, Ky., Oct. 18.—C. M. Hollister, deputy sheriff of this county and deputy United States marshal, was shot and instantly killed about daylight this morning near Henslowville (Bob Cross, a noted desperado, while attempting to arrest him. A large party are in pursuit of Cross, and if caught he will be lynched.

The Cholera in Italy.

ROME, Oct. 18.—During the past twenty-four hours sixty-four fresh cases of cholera in Naples and thirty seven deaths. At Genoa no fresh cases are reported, but six deaths occurred. Throughout Italy during the past twenty-four hours there have been 166 fresh cases and 102 deaths.

Shipbuilding Paralyzed.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Distress at shipbuilding centers in the north is increasing. Trade on the Tyne and adjacent districts is paralyzed. Forty ocean steamers are lying idle in the docks at Sunderland. Most shipyards are closed and public subscriptions are making for laborers out of employment.

Blaine in Indiana.

JOHN BEND, Ind., Oct. 18.—Blaine arrived here this evening and was met by an immense crowd of people, whom he addressed for a short time amid great enthusiasm. He was then driven to the residence of Clem Stedeker whose guest he will be until Monday.

A Wrecked Propeller.

COLLENGWOOD, Ont., Oct. 18.—The propeller Gregorick is reported sunk on the beach between Little Current and Killarney. She struck a rock on Wednesday and was beached in order to prevent going down in deep water. She is a wreck and can hardly be raised. No lives lost.

From Washington.

Infested With Villains.

OWATONNA, Minn., Oct. 18.—A barn belonging to Geo. E. Peck, containing a horse, cow, two carriages and barn and furniture, burned this morning. The loss amounts to $650; insured for $200. Fire bugs receive credit, and the theory grows that the city is infested with an organized gang of villains.

A Georgia Village Visited.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 18.—Twelve stores in Edgfield burned this morning at 4 o'clock. Last year a like conflagration occurred in the same part of the town. Loss $150,000; insurance $40,000. The fire is reported to have been incendiary. Only three stores remain.

St. Paul, Minn., was arrested here today on a charge of embezzling $1,500 from his employers, and was placed in jail to await a requisition from Minnesota.

A Village Conflagration.

WATERLOO, N. Y., Oct. 20.—A fire is raging in West Carthage. The tannery and Eaton Sash and Blind factory are now in flames. The fire is at one end of a quarter of a mile of manufacturing institutions. The Watertown fire department has gone to give assistance. Carthage has a good department, but it is unable to stay the flames. The conflagration began in Eaton's planing mill in West Carthage, spread rapidly and doomed Myers & Row's furniture factory, Farrar's tube shop, Eaton's sash and blind factory, Reville's tannery and his house and other buildings. It jumped across the river and is now burning fiercely, with a high wind rising and at the time of writing looks as if the whole village would be destroyed. Fully thirty dwelling houses have burned and many families are homeless. Many did not save anything. The pump shop, Quigley's woolen mills, three saw mills, Stove, Ryther & Pringle's foundry and machine shop, Presbyterian and Baptist churches, and school house, engine house, town hall and the Peck house are the principal buildings burned outside of residences.

LATER.

The fire is now on both sides of the principal part of Main street and water seems powerless to stay the progress of the flames. It is impossible to describe the scenes incident to the conflagration or to get any estimate of the loss. Many people are moving goods into the country; those not getting teams carry them by hand into vacant lots in the suburbs. The Watertown and Louisville fire companies are now assisting the Carthage firemen. Telegraph and telephone wires are down. To reach the depot from the center of the village the reporter was obliged to make a circuit of a mile and a half. Leaves and dry grass are helping to spread the fire.

LATEST.

The latest tonight from Carthage states that 160 buildings were destroyed by the fire there today. The loss is regarded as not less than one million dollars.

Cleveland and the Boones.

ALBANY, Oct. 20.—This evening the excitement over the assault on Governor Cleveland had largely abated. The condition of Mrs. Boone, who is suffering from hysteria since her interview with the governor a week today, is not dangerous. The statement that she was injured by the governor during the interview is entirely untrue. When he told her he could not pardon her brother without investigation and that the case must take its turn, she flew at him and attempted to scratch his face. He seized her by the wrists and said, "Why, you poor, foolish woman; why don't you behave yourself?" Mrs. Boone was then led into the ante room, where she fell upon the floor in a fit. She is not injured further than sustaining some bruises inflicted upon herself during her struggle. Fairbanks, whom Boone sought to have pardoned, appears also to be a crank. The governor today received a dispatch from the warden of Auburn prison, stating that Fairbanks has been pronounced insane by medical experts and transferred to the insane department.

He Dreamt It.

CONNELLYVILLE, Pa., Oct. 20.—This morning when Rice Orbin came down to his breakfast at his parents' home in Bradford, he exclaimed in frightened tones, "I had a terrible dream last night. I dreamed I shot a man while out hunting last Thursday." His relatives laughed at the matter, but young Orbin insisted upon going to the scene of the shooting, and finally persuaded a brother-in-law named Jones to accompany him. Arriving at a spot five miles from home, in a dense thicket of laurel was found the body of Jacob Klink, with a bullet hole through his brain. Orbin and his companion were horrified and returned to town and notified Justice Campbell, who will hold an inquest tomorrow. Orbin's story is received with some degree of incredulity. The general opinion being that he shot him accidentally and was afraid to confess. Both men bore good reputations. The mystery surrounding the killing caused a great deal of comment and makes the tragedy the sole topic of conversation on the streets.

Bold Ben in New York.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Seven thousand persons heard Gen. Butler make his speech tonight. R. G. Holbrook of the Vulcan Iron Works introduced the general. In speaking of lawlessness and murder in the south, the general excited thunders of applause. He said, "If you will elect me president I will either go into my seat or go into my coffin, and I will either stop these murders, north and south, or I will have lots of first class funerals to keep me busy." Of the Parsons' story the general said: "He styles himself General Parsons. He may possibly have been an outlaw in the confederate army; he did not like me then, and he does not like me now; he could not beat me then, and now he is trying to get even with me by telling lies."

Montana Stock.

MILES CITY, Oct. 20.—The Northern Pacific officials passed here going west today. Mr. Oakes stated that he was well pleased with the stock and wheat freightage of the company. The stock shipped east will be fully 75,000 head this fall. One hundred thousand head have been brought here by the Northern Pacific this season, and probably 150,000 head have come over the trail into northern Montana. Cattle are going east in excellent condition. Mr. Hammarford states that six miles wide on each side of Beaver creek will be reserved from sale in order to insure a good cattle drive to Mirgusville and the same policy will be pursued on other streams.

A Mob Foiled.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 20.—A mob of masked men yesterday, at Senatobia, Miss., attempted to take Sam Franklin and Shakespeare Franklin, two negroes, from the jail and lynch them, but were prevented by Sheriff Jeff Williams, aided by his deputy, Jeff Vasey. The negroes have recently been sentenced to a long term in the penitentiary for poisoning five members of a family of Smiths living near Senatobia. The mob broke down the outer jail door, but were fired upon by the sheriff and finally retreated.

A RED ROSE.

[William Boosey.]
Ah, passionate, red, red rose,
Asleep in her bosom so fair,
You may well be red, being there
On those driven mountain snows.

Do you tremble to hear her faint heart beat
With a murmur of love and longing sweet?
Her heart is ice, as her bosom is snow,
Ah, red, red rose, shall I die her yet?

Ah, passionate, red, red rose,
With that ruby flush driving,
Her lips must have lain on thine,
How 'thy being blushes and glows.

Did they murmur to thee of life and love
That are firm and strong as heaven above?
Her lips are fire that burn to death,
Ah, red, red rose, shall I die on a breath?

Clean the Alleys.

It is rather late in the day to censure owners of property, business men, private citizens and the authorities for the filthy condition of the alleys and back yards of the city, but it is not too late to do some good work in ridding these neighborhoods of a wholesale stock of virus, vermin, and malarial poison which has at last raised its hideous head and breathed fever and disease into the community. There is no doubt among those who know the circumstances under which the late Mr. Formoe worked, the location of Dahl Bros.' workshop, and the fact that another young man recently died from the same building, but that those who have filled the alleys and yards with filth and corruption are responsible for their deaths. Although the heat of the past summer has passed away, the people should not consider themselves beyond danger and immediate steps should be taken to check the unbridled pollution which has been rampant, especially in certain localities. It is hoped that the authorities will take the matter in hand and compel owners of property to remove the germs of disease and death from their yards and alleys. It is the first duty they owe to themselves as well as to their wives and children and neighbors. Cleanliness and proper health precautions will give laughter for tears; joy for sadness; smiles for sobs; happiness for broken hearts; the gay songs for a dirge and the band-wagon for a hearse. Let the alleys be cleaned.

Excursionists in the City.

Jerome Marble, president of the Worcester Excursion Car company, arrived from the west last Tuesday in one of the company's handsome cars. He was accompanied by a party of friends and had been as far west as Little Missouri. The party consisted of:
Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Marble, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. F. Kinney and A. W. Gifford, of Worcester, Mass.; F. H. Allen and wife, of Grafton; W. Henry Hutchinson and wife, of Lynn, Mass.; Max B. Richardson, of Oswego, N. Y.; H. E. Sheffer, of Pittsburgh; Benjamin Lamb, of Boston.
The party had captured fourteen deer, four antelope and five mountain sheep. They left for Steele to hunt geese, and from there to Buffalo, D. T., for ducks. Several of the party have been on similar excursions through the northwest before, and are well versed in the country and its facilities for pleasure. They are well pleased and go home with plenty of game and the remembrance of a pleasant journey.

They Nest Again.

The "swallows" have homeward down, and the patrons of the opera house, whose shining countenance once graced the open space in the waving lace of the cozy wine filled box, now grin luxuriantly; for the "robins nest again." This means that the fair warblers, who so often in the hours of revelry have proclaimed the virtues of the sparkling wine or jerked the baldheaded ineptness from the foaming beer, now bower 'round the "old home" and begin to twitter their familiar lays. Within the last few weeks the "blondes" and "brunettes" have been gathering in the city, and although no definite information can be gleaned, it is understood that the opera house will soon be reopened with a loud, re-echoing bangle blast and the bass-drum and cymbal band will soon shatter the nerves of the community at 8 o'clock each evening.

Midnight Cries.

Screams were heard in the direction of the river last night at 12:10 o'clock, and in company with a representative of the Chicago Times, a TRIBUNE scribe hastened to the spot from which the sound came. It was dark; the very shade of night for deeds of heinous stamp and color. Arriving at the Northern Pacific crossing of west Main street, the news schemers halted to catch the voices which a few moments before had shrieked out in frightening tones on the silence of the night. The voices were those of a man and woman, and the pleadings of the former could be heard above the roaring of winds and the curses of the man. The only words which were distinguishable were, "My God, Charlie, don't kill me!" This was enough. The self-appointed detectives, armed with pencils and a few sheets of pale white paper, hurried their steps in the direction of what sounded very much like the prelude to a tragedy. Another halt was made within about eighty rods of the river and again the pitiful petitions of the women were heard, while the gruff male voice continued to bellow forth oaths and threats. The unknown parties were walking rapidly toward the river, and the journalistic pursuers kept up a lively jog in an effort to overtake them. Arriving at the river the strange couple stopped to listen, having heard the approach of the reporters, but the latter also stopped, and as soon as the disturbers of the midnight peace had convinced themselves that the noise was "all in their minds," they resumed their quarrel. The scribes drew long breaths, mustered courage and a club each, and determined to advance on the objects of their curiosity. Reaching a small thicket within a few feet of the river bank, they assumed a lying position and took in the strange situation a short distance in front. The man was of medium height, compactly built and poorly dressed. The woman, tall, well dressed and of smooth address. She was trembling with fear and her appeals to the fiend were heart rending. At this juncture the hidden reporters sprang from their secluded spot of refuge and demanded of the man that he release his victim. No sooner was the demand made, than both man and woman sprang into a small boat near at hand and went floating out into the turbid waters of the Missouri. The woman was then recognized as a former resident of Bismarck, but the man was evidently a stranger in the slope. The woman was crying bitterly, but all entreaties to have the cruel pilot of the little craft return to shore were ignored, and away sped the object of pursuit toward the western bank of the river. A halt was made at about the middle of the stream, and here the woman was heard to say, "Charlie, you wouldn't drown me, would you? What would my poor little Harry do?" And again the words were lost in a jumble of oaths and pleas. Splash, splash went the oars, and on went the frail craft until it reached the opposite bank, when the occupants stepped ashore and walked directly up and over the hill, their course being made plainly visible by a small lantern which was lighted after reaching the western shore. It was a strange scene, and the cause or result of the unhappy affair will perhaps never be known.

A Good Joke.

By means of a drummer, who resembles Governor Pierce, the wag at Medina the other day played quite a joke on John Warn, an ambitious citizen who wants to be a county commissioner. The drummer was introduced to him as Governor Pierce, and after steady smiles and smokes, a promise of the appointment was elicited. The Medina Pioneer says: This so delighted the "leading citizen" that he ordered a five dollar bottle of champagne and called in a few of the boys, who all joined the governor in drinking to the health of Stark county's new commissioner. Another bottle of the exhilarating fluid was called for by the prospective commissioner, and other items of "all be joyful" were added until the new commissioner's bar bill reached in the neighborhood of twenty hard dollars, when the party adjourned to give the governor time to write out the commission. A commission was formally written and presented. This was too good, and the other boys all felt so happy that they also each prepared and presented a commission to the "leading citizen." He soon found his pockets overflowing with bogus side commissions, and began about that time to "smell a mice." He saw the joke was on him and good humorously joined in the laugh, and "set 'em up" for the boys.

Information Wanted.

Rev. C. B. Austin received word Tuesday that it is believed in Minneapolis that a young man named Marcellus Rynn has been drowned in the Missouri river near this city. About two weeks ago he started down river in a canoe and has not been heard of since. It is thought by his parents, who live in Minneapolis, that he was drowned about twenty miles below Bismarck. Any information concerning his whereabouts, or fate, will be thankfully received by Rev. C. B. Austin or at the TRIBUNE office.

Petrifications for New Orleans.

Mr. J. I. Fields is now engaged in gathering petrifications and curiosities in the Bad Lands to be sent to the World's Fair at New Orleans. Monday morning a Tribune was invited to view the specimens which have already been sent to the city. They were displayed in the office of McKenzie & Coffin, and are as fine as any of the wonderful specimens of nature's curious freaks ever brought from that weird cemetery of the ancient northwestern tropics.

Among the most interesting and beautiful of the petrifications was an immense piece of stone which had every grain and knot, each shattered fibre and half decayed piece of bark of the cottonwood perfectly preserved. A large piece of pine petrification was also exhibited, and many handsome fragments of petrified wood, with the sap beautifully crystallized in the depressions added to the attractiveness of the collection. Mr. Fields returned yesterday to continue his good work in the Bad Lands.

City Council.

City council met Wednesday. Present, his honor the mayor, Aldermen Dunn, Leo, Malloy, Griffin, Peterson and Donnelly.

A petition was presented asking the construction of an eight-foot sidewalk on the east side of Sixth street, from Main street to the Boulevard and along the south side of the Boulevard from Sixth street to Pennsylvania avenue, along the west side of Pennsylvania avenue to South Capitol street.

On motion of Ald. Griffin the petition was accepted with this addition: That a sidewalk be constructed on the other side of Sixth street.

Ald. Griffin gave notice that at the next meeting he would introduce an ordinance relative to grading Washington avenue, Mandan avenue, First street to Ninth street inclusive, and from Main street to the north line of McKenzie & Coffin's addition, according to the established grade.

A petition was read from the following property owners: McKenzie & Coffin, L. N. Griffin, J. W. Raymond, John Whalen, Geo. P. Flannery, Isaac Ross for Sarah Ross, F. J. Call J. A. Rea, J. C. Cady, C. B. Williams and Geo. H. Fairchild, asking that Third street be graded from Main street to the north line of McKenzie & Coffin's addition, and that a special tax be levied upon lots abutting on the said street.

An ordinance offered by Ald. Leo asking the council to construct a sidewalk eight feet in width on the south side of Meigs street, between Tenth street and Mandan avenues, in front of blocks 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52, 54 and 56, and that a special tax be levied upon the property fronting on said street, was also adopted.

Alderman Griffin moved that the obstructions on the west side of Fourth street from Main to Thayer streets, such as awnings, posts, etc., be removed. That the chief of police be instructed to notify the owners and if not removed in a short time, that the same be taken away by him. Carried.

The city attorney was instructed to issue correct deeds to Louis Peterson, on lots 9 and 10, block 28, which he purchased of the city last year, an error having been made in describing the location.

The Ruffled Music Box.

About a hundred anxious looking luck hunting individuals gathered at Frank Frisbie's store Saturday night to rattle the dice for the handsome music box which has been pounding the vitality out of "Dancing in the Barn," "The Sweet By and Bye" and blowing "The Last Rose of Summer" through the doors and windows of Frisbie's store in a reckless manner for the past few weeks. Every man walked into the store with an air of confidence which proved beyond peradventure that all of his pockets and his hat were filled with rusty horse shoes, and he knew that luck was with him. Some good shaking was done, but the last man, Mr. W. B. Hyatt, threw forty-three, and won the $125 music box. Col. Gillespie won a box of cigars "on the side," while several others came out even by hedging. The box is a very fine one and Mr. Hyatt made a lucky winning. He will put it up for raffle in the store of Wise & Goodkind.

False Reports.

A report recently reached Bismarck that the prairie fires north of the city had destroyed all houses, barns and perishable property for miles north and east, and that the number of buildings destroyed were over 100. It now transpires that this report was wholly erroneous, with the exception of the fact that large prairie fires did rage and some hay and a very little wheat was destroyed. It is learned that "one small shack was the only building destroyed, and the loss of hay is very small.

Beautiful Streets.

Nothing does more to add to the attractiveness and beauty of a city than broad, well graded and well protected streets. The citizens on Sixth street have contributed liberally and the result is, that thoroughfare has been graded in fine shape and is now the most desirable road to the capital. Work was commenced on Fourth street yesterday and as this is the most important of all streets leading to the capital, the city and property owners should not fail to do their part in making it one of the most desirable for travel. Money is not asked of those who have teams and implements to contribute, and by all turning in with a zeal, a large force of teams and men will put Fourth street in excellent condition. The city council have taken steps toward the grading of Third street and in less than thirty days the streets of Bismarck will be in fine condition for travel, and the capital will not seem so far from the business center of the city.

Colonel Patey Boreath Afloat.

The distinguished and flowery orator of the proud domain of Dakota, Col. Pat Donan, is receiving a great share of the campaign honors this year, as will be seen by the following extract from the Dubuque Telegraph of the 20th inst:

The Dubuque delegation boarded the train and were introduced. The general, in company with Col. Pat Donan, of Fargo, Dakota; Mr. Wolf, chairman of the Iowa state republican committee; W. B. Taylor, his private secretary, and Albert Hall, his stenographer. The crowd on the platform were impatient to see and hear the famous general. So he stepped out on the head platform, and was received by a perfect storm of cheers. He exuded himself from making a speech, as he had already made several and would make a lengthy one in Dubuque this afternoon. He thanked them for his reception and then introduced the famous Col. Pat Donan, who made one of his characteristic speeches fully beset with puns and a gasp of applause. His remarks were received with applause. Everybody wanted to shake hands with General Logan and he good naturedly complied as far as possible. As the train moved off the crowd cheered loudly.

Where is My Boy Tonight?

Again this pathetic query comes from a troubled mother, whose boy has strayed westward. The TRIBUNE received the following letter yesterday:

KALAMAZOO, Mich.
EDITOR TRIBUNE: Will you do me the great kindness of publishing the following notice:
A young boy of Kalamazoo, Michigan, named George Maurice Yarn, left his home August 3d. All efforts to trace him have proven unsuccessful. If anyone reading this knows anything of his whereabouts, please entreat him to return home, or write his mother, telling her where he is. He is fifteen years of age; has brown eyes and dark hair, is left-handed, and slow or hesitating in speech. Was dressed in a dark mixed suit. Mrs. GEORGE YARN, 715 Millard St., Kalamazoo, Mich.
Papers please copy.

They Prefer to Float.

The following from the Pierre Democrat would indicate that some of the Bismarck boys are bound to get to the World's Fair at New Orleans regardless of time or hardships:

A. M. Redp, formerly with the Evening Leader of Bismarck, and party consisting of E. L. Cronkhite, B. W. Shirts, Wm. Webster and Fred Talmadge, having built a boat at this place, shovelled out this morning for New Orleans, expecting to float to St. Louis, if not all the way to the Crescent City. They came here on the steamer Banker, expecting to go through on her, but on her arrival at this port she was sold to Fred Evans and her bows turned up stream, and therefore, our friends being determined to not be deprived of their long trip on the Big Muddy, built themselves an ark and are now floating down toward the sunny south. Success attend the voyagers.

The Tax Levy.

The city council is now in session as a board of equalization, and the tax levied for the ensuing year is as follows:

General purposes	4 mills
School fund	2 "
Special fund	1 "
Total	7 mills

This is an encouraging showing for the taxpayers, as the tax levied last year was thirteen mills.

THE VALUATION.

The total valuation of Bismarck real estate is $1,367,587; personal, $470,763, making a total valuation of $1,838,350, or nearly two millions.

The Coal Interests.

The coal interests of North Dakota are growing rapidly. The latest developments are at Medina, of which the Bad Lands Cow Boy says:
The coal mine tunnel is now about ninety feet in, and the quality of the coal is constantly improving. It is undoubtedly the best coal yet discovered in northern Dakota. Provided low enough rates can be secured, a side track will be built and the coal shipped down the road. Orders for local consumption will be immediately filled by leaving directions at this office.

Reception.

The members and congregation of the M. E. church, as well as all friends of Rev. and Mrs. D. C. Plannett, will gather at the M. E. church this evening to tender them a farewell reception and at the same time to greet and welcome the incoming pastor, Rev. P. Clare, who arrived last evening. All friends of Rev. and Mrs. Plannett are invited to be present. Vocal and instrumental music, short speeches and other entertainment will be provided, and a large attendance may be anticipated, as this will be the last opportunity to meet the popular departing pastor and his wife.

From the Interior Department.

Messrs. W. J. Baxter, chief law clerk in the office of the assistant attorney general of the department of the interior, and F. L. Campbell, of the same staff, arrived in the city last evening, having passed several weeks in the Big Stone lake region adjusting the claims of settlers, which were badly mixed by the fraudulent survey of 1865. They report everything settled amicably and left the landholders in a happy frame of mind. Mr. Baxter is accompanied by his wife, and the party leaves for the west this morning. They will return in about a week and visit Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Davis, old time Washington friends.

A Contradiction.

FOR A. LINCOLN, D. T., Oct. 20, 1884.
To the Editor: My attention has been called to an article in the WEEKLY TRIBUNE of the 10th inst., entitled "The Fargo Tournament," in which the following extract appeared:
The executive committee also considered Captain Sanger and Lieutenant Irvine, judges at the military drill, as guests and insisted on paying all their expenses.

I deem it just and proper to state that the executive committee did not consider myself or Lieutenant Irvine as guests, and did not insist on paying, and have not paid all or any part of our expenses. Respectfully yours,
L. N. SANGER,
Captain Seventeenth Infantry.

A Successful Trip.

Miss H. B. Mead returned from a very successful western business trip last evening. She had been as far as Little Missouri in the interest of her wholesale department and supplied many of the dealers with fall and winter stocks of dry goods and millinery. The dry goods and millinery establishment of H. B. Mead & Co. is a shining credit to Bismarck, and Miss Mead's sagacity and fine business qualification are bound to keep her firm prominent and popular in the eyes of the public.

Personal.

Major Fonda visited Mandan last evening.
O. S. Weaver is expected home from the east this evening.
C. E. V. Draper returned from St. Paul Wednesday evening.
Rev. P. Claire, successor to Rev. D. C. Plannett, arrived last evening. Rev. Claire came from Fergus Falls and comes highly recommended by his congregation and friends.

One More Unterrified.

The latest and youngest offspring of democracy is the McOK County Democrat, which comes with the motto: "Warranted True Blue, All Wool and a Yard Wide." It is a mazy looking little cuss and evidently thinks its Jacksonian sire or his lineal descendants are on top, and that under Cleveland's administration he will have abundant nourishment and grow large and opulent.

Dead.

O. H. Beal received a telegram from Portland, Maine, yesterday informing him of the death of his partner in the hardware business, Mr. William E. Bucknam, who passed away Wednesday. Mr. Bucknam was here several months last spring, but did not make any acquaintances as he attended strictly to business matters. He was an unmarried man.

Delegates from Precinct Five.
